INDEX

INSTRUCTIONS FOR THE USE OF THE INDEX

The Index is a bit confusing if one does not know what the numbers mean. As you have read through this book there have been numbers on the right side of the names in the family group sheets. These numbers are the record numbers filed in the computer that allow us to find each individual and their records. With these numbers, it is possible to construct the charts and to keep track of parents and children.

The Index is constructed as follows: The family name, the given name in alphabetical order of each individual with that family name, then the record number of each individual (that you really have no need to worry about because it is for the authors use only), then the page numbers of the family charts on which the individual appears. Unfortunately, we were unable to put names from the text and illustrations in the Index.
